

Two FCC commissioners hear testimony about media consolidation at Milwaukee event organized by Free Press

Date: 2006-09-10 13:33

Type: Drupal Node (story)

Free Press, the media-reform lobby group, orchestrated another of a series of hearings on Sept. 7, 2006, in collaboration with two Democrats on the Federal Communications Commission, Michael Copps and Jonathan Adelstein. A report at the website BizTimes said over 300 people attended at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, mostly of them speaking out against media consolidation. \(EVENT ANNOUNCEMENT\) / [Janesville \[Wis.\] Gazette editorial supporting cross-ownership](#). The Federal Communications Commission said Friday it will conduct an official public hearing in Los Angeles on media ownership issues on Oct. 3. (AP via San Jose Mercury News)